

NEW SHOWROOM IN THE HEART OF COPENHAGEN

It is our pleasure to announce that on August 21st, Wendelbo will open the doors to a brand new showroom in one of the best locations in the city of Copenhagen, especially when it comes to design furniture. The new Wendelbo showroom is located in Bredgade 35, in the historical district of Frederiksstad, which is saturated with royal mansions and classic architecture and has in recent years become a central area for Danish furniture design and craftsmanship.

We look forward to opening the 350 m2 space to the public, filled with a great variety of Wendelbo designs. We aim to provide a great place to gather inspiration and to get a complete idea of the Wendelbo brand. Showing both familiar and new designs, we will show as much of our collection as the space allows – primarily focusing on designs suitable for the contract market, but naturally welcome retailers as well.

“For us, it is about giving people the best possible experience. This showroom provides us with a unique possibility for creating a great inspirational space and at the same time attract more visitors given this great location”. Lars Wendelbo explains.

Copenhagen has become an international, metropolitan city with increased visitors from not just surrounding Scandinavia, but from Europe and the rest of the world. It is however expected the showroom will attract guests from primarily Scandinavia and Northern Germany.
