Kite / Introducing new designs to the Kite family by Jonas Wagell for Wendelbo

The Kite modular sofa by Swedish designer Jonas Wagell is defined by its timeless aesthetic and luxuriously exquisite dimensions, paired with Wendelbo's inherent expertise in upholstered designs. Now, the aesthetics of Kite are introduced to a series of new silhouettes through the typologies of high back sofas and club chairs.

The Kite high back sofa acts as a natural extension of the original Kite design, featuring thinly upholstered panels with a kite-like look, breathing a distinctive character into the form while making for a strictly linear outline that is combined with the soft and curvy inner. With its high back identity, the design adds a sense of privacy and shelter to modern spaces with the soft panels enhancing the acoustics while seated in conversation.

With the Kite Club Chair, Wagell wanted to do more than simply scale down the sofa into a one-seater version. Instead, the designer sought to create a complimentary chair that had a slightly smaller footprint yet shared the expression of the Kite design and, through that, expanded the possibilities of the series. The Kite Club Chair has a softly inviting shape through its curved back, made in a single upholstered piece, breathing a sense of elegance into any space. Finding character in the smallest of things, Wagell also added quilted seams from top to bottom on the curved back, making a touch of refined craftsmanship while highlighting the voluminous shape of the very back itself.
